RARE RACES AND SPORTS.

Tuesday, September 19.

First day at a fair is considered the best, and the one of this year might be put down as one of the usual kind, though not as poor as the times would seem to justify. An excellent speed program, in addition to a bicycle contest, in which several outsiders took part and which even more exciting than would a contest among local cyclists. The pavilion was in most instances, where progress had been made, even better in showing than on the previous year. Bernadillo county was well along with a fruit exhibit and Dona Ana county was making progress, the exhibit of honey being most prominent in this exhibit so far. Santa Fe county is due and will be making a beginning to-day, in fact as good as ready as showing the growing crops in fruit, etc., of that section. The Indian school, northwest of us, occupied the south end and was not completed last evening. Joe Badaracco has a grand covered with bottles of wine and grapes that produce the article surrounding the whole. Photographers, also Cobb, are present with their cameras, and the kind we like to see in exhibitions that come to us annually. The ladies have a fine exhibit of Indian and fruit in glass jars, which Miss Julia Lee was looking after. Ramona Indian school at Santa Fe is on the south end with a small but satisfactory showing. Educational matters being looked after by Prof. Ramsey, and at this time educators will find a home. Byron Ives has a good start in usual in a central position. Over a supply, though not quite filling space, and in the usual place. Mr. A. G. Gillingham has been very active in getting things in shape, and his idea of decorating with corn stalks and grasses is the art gallery of the pavilion to the west, a sort of annex, is much better than former years and deserves more than usual mention, which it shall have in other edition. Mrs. Neill B. Field is prominent.

Mr. Wm. Lowe's department is not yet to last year's exhibit, and by this time the collection of poultry and domestic stock will be appreciably increased. The stables to the north are fairly well filled, and will receive extended and necessary notice in another issue. Tomorrow's issue will contain extended notes of each particular exhibit, which, owing to incompleteness, it is impossible to say much of. New Mexico is very proud of her fruits and vegetables, and in this the people should show the greatest interest, as we cannot have too much of the agricultural and horticultural. Encourage the farmer in all he aims at, and showing your appreciation of his efforts by assisting in bringing the products of the farm, orchard and garden into prominence by display, and by good words.

BICYCLE RACES.
Bicycle race was manifested in the and a mile contest, and a pretty sight was to see the riders of the "silent wheel" make their starts over the tape and speed away over the track. The race was rather too heavy a contest for the time, the horses did not engage as much enthusiasm as those in which pushed forward in the heartiest manner to reach the goal.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, the men entered in the quarter mile dash, were called to the line and prepared for the signal. The race was won by E. C. Sperry, M. Sperry, Lou Mandell, Fisher, Rogers, Studley, Helwig, Hudson, Baker and Ritchie, divided into two divisions on account of the number. The Sperry's from Raton, and Studley and Hudson from Santa Fe. In the first division Mandell crossed the line in 37 1/2 seconds, in 38 1/2, seven others followed closely. Five started in the second division, S. B. Ritchie making the run in 39 seconds, F. H. Hudson a 4 second race. Mandell was declared the winner and will receive a prize.

The half mile, in two three, contest followed, in two divisions, the leaders to go and the others to follow. Studley, the Sperry's, Rogers and Shurtz were contestants, and in the first trial, 1:22 1/2 was made. Rogers, Shurtz and Sperry made a good showing, and in the wind up Rogers took first place and Shurtz second.

The time in the final heat was 1:25, six going, the above time being recorded by E. C. Sperry, who will come in first prize, J. N. Shurtz, of this city, second, with 1:26. The winner rode a 34 wheel of the Columbia No. 32 model.

THE RACE.
First on the program was the 3:00 mile, purse $200. The entries were Rogers and Dye's b.b. Dick Montgomery and Wm. Butler's chestnut mare, Danillo Belle, from Colorado Springs. The mare's race from the start to finish, Dick breaking throughout and winding up with being distanced, thus ending the race in the first heat and lessening the day's sport and the length of time consumed in the execution of the whole. Time, 2:43.

The trot of the day was between the favorite May Queen, known so well to this community, Morgan, a black gelding owned by P. W. Sharp, Pueblo, and Iowa Chief, M. H. Porter's black horse, and credited to Phoenix, Arizona. The latter had the call on the pools. The class is 2:35, purse $200, and these animals afforded a pretty contest alternating their positions throughout each heat. May almost invariably fall behind, and keep that position a great part of the race. Benjamin held the reins and took good care of the little mare. She lost the third heat to Iowa Chief who got second money. The score:

May Queen 1 1 1
Iowa Chief 2 2 2
Morgan 3 3 3
Time—2:35, 2:36, 2:40, 2:47.

In the mile dash for $200, the entries were Rogers, San Brown, Ben Cannon, Sweetheart, Lilly B. The first and best named are known to the local track. As usual there was a number of false starts, and at last they got off in a bunch. Artless keeping the lead throughout, Ben Cannon coming in second, and San Young third, all being close together at the finish. The recorded time was 1:50. Though a light fall of rain was not desirable, it did not disturb the carrying out of the program, and the half mile races, though of least importance in the racing events, came on, with of course many false starts. Duke was a favorite, Duffy, Red Cloud and Keno being next in their order. The horses finally got away and in 25 seconds it was over. Missouri Lou coming in sufficiently ahead to save the race, Duke second and Red Cloud third. Time, 25 seconds.

This ended the day's races, and but for the light fall of rain would have been very satisfactory.

The 10th infantry band under leader Cretzburg, played during the day and at the ball in the evening. Hereafter they will give outdoor concerts which are so satisfactory last year.

Trains coming in during the night brought goodly numbers from every direction, so that all sections are now represented, even Texas, El Paso being among the towns over the border sending a delegation.

The court being in bad order, no games of tennis were played, though several tennis experts were present in waiting for instructions.

Gordon Pearce is at the east gate, Pete Isherwood at the grand stand, Tom Hubbell chief of police, while Jack Crawford acts as drivers and jockeys are weighed and placards numbered the horses and time made are posted.

It is understood that Jim Price will not enter a protest on account of the collision between Missouri Lou and Red Cloud in the one-fourth mile dash yesterday.

There was promise of a bad ending of the first day, the clouds lowering and slight showers falling.

The watermelon man filled up his booth with watermelons, and the ministerial attire of the Dona Ana county merchant rather surprised everybody.

The field against Bart Hart in the one-half mile dash were sold liberally last night.

Yondorf and Knight cried themselves hoarse in their efforts to get on a new post.

The art gallery has been made a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and comprises much in real art, added to which is the display of china painting.

THE CHINA FACTORY.
Is a local institution of recent introduction, and with real good judgment the proprietors have chosen this occasion to present in a general way the products of the factory in display for the attention of all New Mexico and Arizona—especially smokers. Chas. F. Kinstler & Co., the proprietors, are here to stay, and this is not surprising in view of the fact that the orders are so great that it is found necessary to engage more expert workmen to assist in getting out the orders required. The Commercial club, the San Felipe and institutions that require only the best place their orders with this factory, and gentlemen who know what a good cigar is, have frequently instructed Kinstler & Co. to put up special makes. The display at the fair is one that all should see, and especially our visitors. Their present quarters in the city are in the south end, readily accessible from the business center.

Much of interest can be found in the Indian school exhibit, occupying the south end of the hall, and visitors give a great deal of attention to the work produced by the boys and girls attending this institution. The Santa Fe, Ramona Indian school exhibit, close by, is small, but the attendant will be pleased to explain what is done at the school.

Is there, as has been his custom for years, with a full line of his best, and certainly very attractive work. The large studies are models of the photographs art, and in speaking of them there is no disposition to let the exhibitors and bidders. Cobb introduces much of his view work, and this, too, stands the test of merit. Cobb is so well known that a lengthy mention seems unnecessary. We will be content in saying that the Indian school, 1893, is in possession, and he looks forward to further laurels in the same direction in 1893.

The ladies, through Miss Julia Lee, have a fine assortment of jellies and the like in jars on exhibition near the San Juan exhibit, and there are many boys, and girls, too, even big ones, who would like to get into them and partake surreptitiously.

ABOUT THE GROUND.

Several pens of sheep came in yesterday, among which are those of McIntosh and McGilvray. The animals attract considerable notice. On the other side, north, are Jerseys and other cattle.

THE CLARK-WHITE-SMITH MUSEUM.

Headquarters at El Paso, with branches in this city and at Phoenix, exhibit the Becker Bros., a Kimball and the Everett 3:00. Ritchie 3:11, Studley 3:18, a close race, as large as was promised the fair, and this prevented a more liberal display, which the company had expected to make. During the morning Eddie Grimes, field entertained at the local office, Second street, and at the booth Miss Lizzie Gillingham, the secretary, showed to the Master Floyd Whitson, son of the vice president, who is in charge of the Albuquerque branch, show their proficiency at intervals through the afternoon. With these artists at the piano the exhibit is made the center of attraction in the pavilion.

THE BUCKLE RACE.

These seemed to attract more attention than the work of the spirited horses entered for dashes and heats. In the test for place the following came up to the line in their divisions: Andrews, yesterday's winner, the two Sperry's, Shurtz, with a good record, Mitchell, Hudson, Studley, Mandell, Fisher, Rogers and Helwig. This was a test of a mile and the choice fell to the following who were subsequently in the final: Shurtz 3:04, Fisher 3:06, Andrews 3:06, Hudson 3:08, Ritchie 3:11, Studley 3:12, nearly all of whom were visitors. Towards the last these cyclists lined up for the event of the day, the wind-up and effort for the three prizes. It was a pretty race all through. Shurtz, the Albuquerquean, taking the lead, but who lost it at the finish by a scratch, Fisher lagging him and winning in 3:02, Shurtz 3:03, a close second, and Studley third. Shurtz lost control of his hands when he had the race well in control, but he gets the gold watch offered by Everett, Fisher being presented with the championship gold badge by Nettleton, on the spot. Studley claimed third place, though he lost against him, the judges finally correcting in his favor, and he gets a silver watch. Fisher in a Santa Fe and rode a Cleveland racer, 22 pounds weight, which 68 gear. The boys will bet in it to-day for a five minute run and excitement will reign supreme.

THE RACE TRACK.

Phelan's Billy and the favorite May Queen were booked for the 2:40 trot, Billy Trimble behind the horse and Benjamin watching over May. The mare had the pole and they got off in good form, the horse having the lead in the first heat, which he kept to the finish, though it seemed that he could have done better than 2:35. In the second and subsequent heats, it was the Queen's, though it was a stern chase with her most of each heat, but she pulled through every time by a close lead. The pool was even, as each animal had an equal following as to friends.

O. B. Haines, generally known as "Hustler Jim," took the horse in the fourth, and though credited a good driver, failed to get the heat. May beat all her previous records. The score:

Time—2:35, 2:33, 2:40, 2:33.

The three-year-old colts were for the best two in three, four animals appearing; purse $200. These were Properly, Glenn, Nigrita and Johnny Wilkes. It was narrowed down to Properly and Johnny Wilkes, these taking the heats, credited to Wilkes. Nigrita was not in it at any time, the veteran Greenleaf failing to fill even third place in any heat. The contest was good between the others at all stages, the collision between them being of no effect. The score:

Properly	1	2	1
Wilkes	2	1	2
Glenn	3	3	3
Nigrita	4	4	4
Time—3:17, 3:18, 3:07.

A very interesting trot and pacing contest was the one made up in the morning in place of the 2:25 class. It was called a mixed race, and was a good one. The entries were Denmark, Leroy and Grey Frank. Leroy was given the first heat, Denmark having the lead, but was ruled to second place on account of running. Frank was placed third and Leroy last. The second heat was Denmark's, Leroy second, Leroy third and Grey trailing. Leroy took the third, coach driving as in previous heats, Denmark second, Grey Frank third and Leroy a bad fourth. The race being the last of the day, the race was postponed until 2 o'clock to-day.

The score:

Leroy	1	1	1
Frank	2	2	2
Sleepy	3	3	3
Denmark	4	4	4
Time—2:35, 2:36, 2:40.

Through more or less of the trotting and waiting rain fell slightly, but this did not deter the judges. Mackenzie, Hinkley and Keene, from sending off the spectators. They were strict, Mr. Hinkley, the starter, taking occasion to speak plainly as required.

The running race, 1 mile dash for $200, was anxiously looked for, being about the last number on the track program. The entries were King Bird, Keno, Duke and Bert Hart, the latter a favorite in the pools. King Bird was a roving animal, but made a poor showing; Keno, though third, crowding the leaders, Duke taking the race in 5 1/2 and Hart a close second.

The balloon went up at 6 sharp, with the daring Leroy on the trapeze waving adieu to the multitude below. At several hundred feet above earth he detached the parachute and down he came like a shot, it seemed, but fell safely in the northeast end of the city. It was a successful feat.

Thursday, September 21.

One would think that this year was one of activity, and that the financial troubles were a thing of the past, judging by the way the crowds poured into the fair grounds, beginning at 1 o'clock yesterday. A steady stream of humanity, comprising the best elements of society in the city, and from every section of the two territories, intermingled with those following every calling and representing many nationalities. It was certainly a cosmopolitan gathering, and every one seemed to be full of enthusiasm, the day being most propitious for an occasion of the kind. The early comers were treated to a most exciting race of cyclists, and lovers of this sport were out in great numbers.

THE FAIR.

Presented an animated appearance as everything was in order, and there was much to see, the first of importance being the fruits and vegetables, which need no laudation at our hands. New Mexico takes front place in regard to the quality of its produce, and it is not to be remembered that the territory took first prize when in the big fair that is going on in the vicinity of Chicago, and the thousands who attend that show from this date to the close will see much that New Mexico has shown this fall in her own fair. The exhibits forwarded to the World's Fair. The Sisters' booth is one of interest, and herewith is a complete list of the exhibitors in this place: From the academy, one figure in oil and an historical scene in crayon. Mrs. R. P. Hall's pastel portrait of her little daughter, four portraits in crayon, study of figures in crayon, a pair of plaques, crosses and plaques, also studies in crayon and four dozen pieces of hand painted china. Mrs. E. L. Washburn exhibits portrait of her husband in crayon, portrait of child in oil, painting, Alpine scene in oil, landscape, piece in pastel, piano cover, table scarf and slippers, robe in plush, felt table cover, silk banner and sofa pillow, crocheted and silk picture throw. Mrs. S. White exhibits a study of figures in oil, water scene, brass plaque of pines, pair bird panels, all in oil; studies of roses in oil, and marine scene in oil. Mrs. E. Moore painted scene (Finger's cave) in oil; dining room pictures and mountain scene, all in oil. Mrs. C. G. Collier, portrait and a scene in oil. Mrs. F. J. Kinstler, portrait of son in crayon and scene in crayon. Miss Susan McCowan placed studies of horses heads in pastel, scene in crayon. Miss Josie Hamm, a study in pastel. Miss Madge Ray, a scene on the Delaware, and a study of roses, both in oil; study of animals in pastel. Miss C. B. Brela, two scenes in pastel. Miss Chona Armitage, three pastels. Miss Anita Armitage, one study of angels heads in crayon; three scenes in pastel. Mrs. T. J. Shurtz, daughter's portrait in pastel; scene in oil, study of figures in oil. Miss Armitage, study of figures in pastel. Miss M. Rogers, three studies in pastel and two crayons.

ON THE GROUND.

There are some sixty couples of Brahmas, Wyandottes, Leghorns, waterhens, Plymouth Rocks, Japanese, cockerels, ducks and geese in poultry, and chickens, turkeys and rabbits in the exhibit, a very interesting to lovers of domestic fowls and pets.

Six pens of sheep of fine grades owned by prominent sheep fanciers will wear blue ribbons—at least a good many of them will.

Chas. E. Lebelmerer, of Las Vegas, has eighteen head of registered Jerseys, New Mexico bred, he making the only exhibit of the distribution of blue ribbons, diplomas, and special mention is being made, which is confined to the pasteurized milk, the art gallery, the poultry and domestic pet stock, and also the sheep, Jerseys and horses.

THE BUCKLE RACE.

A five mile dash in which Studley, Ritchie, E. C. Sperry, A. J. Fischer, D. Mandell, Hudson, Andrews, Helwig, Shurtz, O. M. Sperry and R. Rogers went out before the start. The other got off at a clipping pace and kept it up throughout, with the exception of Mandell and Rogers, the former falling out after finishing one mile and the latter at the end of his fifth circuit. The final was a scene bordering on the wild, the enthusiasm, a crowd following the victor, S. B. Ritchie, of this city, after he passed the wire at the end of the fifth mile, which was accomplished in 15:24. O. M. Sperry, of Raton, was nearly a winner in 15:33 and two-fifths and A. J. Fischer third in 15:33 and three-fifths. The consolation gave to Ritchie a $25 gold medal, Ross & Bros a Marlin rifle to Sperry, and Bullock, Baker & Co. an outfit bag to Fischer. Ritchie rode a relay blue rim, 22 pounds, 66 gear, Columbia. The judges were Shurtz, Skinner and Young, and the timers W. Keene, Dr. Pearce and W. H. Porter.

ON THE TRACK.

First on the program was the unfinished trot of yesterday which resulted as follows, (the first three heats of Wednesday repeated in the record here) six heats being required to settle the matter.

Sleepy	1	2	4	1	2	1
Frank	2	3	3	2	3	2
Leroy	3	1	2	1	1	3
Denmark	4	4	2	4	4	4
Time—2:35, 2:36, 2:40, 2:36, 2:40, 2:37.

Frank F. and E. W. L. were an evenly matched pair and a close race was not seen on the course this season. It was a pace and trot special, $120 to first and $30 to second. The third heat was a hotly contested, Frank winning by a small margin. The score:

Frank F. 1 1 1
Time—2:34, 2:28, 2:32.

In the 2:45 class Billy took three straight heats. Gimp was withdrawn on account of a bad leg. "Hustler Jim" was carried to driver for reasons and Trimble took the favorite horse under his charge for the race and kept the bay sufficiently in the lead all through each heat to end the contest in the third. Maritoni Belle was an uncomfortably close second and Billy could not get within four lengths of the latter at any time. The score:

Billy 1 1 1
Maritoni Belle 2 2 2
Dick Montgomery 3 3 3
Time—2:40, 2:34, 2:30.

Straight as seemed to be the order of the day after the untimely trot, for it was Artless' day in running 1 mile dashes, 2 in three, purse, $300, divided into three parts to that number of winners. Sam Brown imposed his record, as did Ben Cannon, but it was left to the bay mare to carry off the biggest end of that $300.

The score:

Artless	1	1	1
Ben Cannon	2	2	2
Sam Brown	3	3	3
Lilly	4	4	4
Sweetheart	5	5	5
Time—5:14, 5:14.

Pools sold light, and the favorites proved to be such in the records of the day.

FINE PHOTOGRAPHY.

Nothing in the way of exhibit at the fair attracts more attention and favorable comment than the art display of Mayes, the photographer. It is simply magnificent, and as a sample Mr. Mayes is a leader in his art in this territory. He is thoroughly up with the times and possesses all the most approved apparatus and practices all the latest methods known to the art. In his exhibit are specimens of colored photography which are so true to nature that one can almost imagine that the portraits are twinkling at him or that friends represented among the display are nodding their recognition. Mr. Mayes is also a crayon artist and his work in this line evidences his high merit. There is a particularly fine portrait of a woman in his few exhibits, and that is justifying a true artist's eye, he places on subjects in the most advantageous and at the same time natural position, and an ungraceful pose is never seen in any of his portrait work. Infantile pictures are particularly fine, and the array of "mamma's darlings" whose photographs he exhibits is convincing proof of his professional ability in this line. Altogether, Mr. Mayes' exhibit is a pleasure to all who view it and highly creditable to himself, and it cannot fail as an advertisement to bring him material results.

THE ALBUQUERQUE LAUNDRY.

One of the most important of local industries is the above institution and it makes a fine display of custom work, fine faces and curtains, which they cleanse to perfection. Those who will examine the contents of the cases at the booth in the pavilion will agree with the Citizens' statement. The curtains are fit for the apartments of a queen, after they have passed through the laundry.

TANNING EXHIBIT.

The Tanning company, of Denning, show a number of samples of leather tanned at their establishment. This is accomplished by the use of cannaigre, so much spoken of by the press, but of which little is known so far as its actual use in tanning is concerned. There is the leather and an examination of it as you pass through will satisfy as to what has been said about it. The shoes made at the local Indian school are further evidence in the final use of the leather. As a dye the cannaigre is an excellent article and also as a curative for a certain disease. The goat skin changed from pink to white to a bright orange, by the tanning process, is a beauty. Details, the gentleman in charge is best able to give and he is always willing to answer questions. The cannaigre, and also the extract from it, are displayed. These will be presented to the Commercial club. Don't fail to see this exhibit, as it is good to talk up. New Mexico has a bona fide cannaigre and we want the world to know it and anything else excels in.

TESTS.

Brooks and Vorhees won a game with Baker and Schuman. Score, 6, 1, 6, 2. Brooks and Vorhees are to play Whitman and Stamm for the championship cup.

NOTES.

The championship cup was donated by Hixcock & Co.

Over 200 tickets were sold at Santa Fe to Territorial Fair visitors.

M. S. Otero did good work to make the fair and the various conventions this week successful.

The exhibits of the Santa Fe and Albuquerque Indian schools attracted a great number of all afternoon.

The touring bag offered as third prize in the five-mile bicycle race was donated by Bullock, Baker & Co.

The judges yesterday were M. McKenzie, starter, W. Keene and Mr. Moore, of Arizona, assisted by three timers.

The protests in the race of colts was withdrawn yesterday. Claims made were that some of the animals were over age.

At every fair and every day during each exhibition the Stover attendants and does his whole duty as an enterprising citizen.

Lieut. Carleton, of Fort Wingate, was in the city this week, and joined the biggest crowd ever seen at the fair grounds, yesterday.

C. L. McDonald had charge of the score card, and the horsemen are praising him for his accuracy and the manner in which it was gotten up.

No accidents have occurred during the week to mar the pleasure of the annual festival and the police have had but little call for their services.

The balloon flight is programmed and Leroy will go up if well enough, otherwise "Pete" will do the act in the most approved manner. "It's easy," he says.

Wallace and Francis, excellent young men, sons of Major Baker, the United States paymaster at Santa Fe, have spent the week pleasantly in this city.

Flagstaff was represented by P. P. and W. A. Duggs, J. R. Kilpatrick and A. E. Cornish, who were part of the Arizona contingent. Arizona was very well represented even to the remote points.
